Introduction

About the survey

An external company, People Insight Ltd, was commissioned to undertake the survey. The questionnaire was designed to measure people's attitudes and beliefs concerning key employee engagement issues.

Each section of the survey contained a series of statements to which respondents were asked to indicate their level of agreement from a five point likert scale (strongly agree to strongly disagree).

Survey response rates

The survey was completed in November 2011 and achieved an overall response rate of 90%. 40 staff were invited to take part in the survey and 36 responses were received.

This is an excellent response rate and gives a good degree of confidence in the results. The appendices show response rates broken down by selected groups of staff.

Your Engagement Score

Why measure engagement?

Employee engagement has been proven to positively impact on organisation results, across all sectors. In particular, a high level of employee engagement has been shown to lead to improved productivity, quality and customer satisfaction (and of course for commercial organisations increased profit), whilst reduced absence and lower staff turnover are amongst many of the other benefits.

Your survey has been designed to measure the extent to which your people are engaged and alongside this to measure the drivers of employee engagement (i.e. the things that when done well tend to engage employees). We have analysed these below and compared your results with other organisations in our benchmarking group.

Your engagement score: 79%

Your overall engagement score is the headline result for your survey and is presented as a single measure of employee engagement.

Your engagement score compared with our benchmark group is shown below:

Your	Variance	Variance	Benchmark
Score	Arrow	Actual	Score
79%	1	3%	76%

This is a good result when compared with our benchmark group.

Scores by engagement theme

Your overall engagement score is the result of a number of factors, many of which can be directly influenced or controlled by management. These are often called engagement drivers, and are the things that when done well tend to motivate, inspire and engage employees. Your survey measured a wide range of engagement drivers and these have been grouped into themes depending upon where they appeared in your survey. These themes are often useful as the focus for action planning.

Your benchmarking results for each theme are summarised below. These scores have been calculated as the average score for all engagement driver questions within each theme.

Please note that for benchmarking purposes we only include questions in this analysis where a sufficient number of comparable surveys have used the same question.

Engagement Theme	Your Score	Variance Arrow	Variance Actual	Benchmark Score
Goal Clarity	83%	† † †	10%	73%
Task Satisfaction	81%	† †	7%	74%

Considerations for action planning

Many clients use the overall engagement score as the starting point for action planning. Your score is currently 79%, which is above (3% or more) our benchmarking norms. The questions to consider as part of action planning can include:

- Are we happy with this score? What would we like it to be in 12 months time?
- What do the driver scores tell us in terms of why our overall engagement score is 79%?
 - O What are we doing particularly well?
 - O What themes are showing up as weaknesses?
 - O What would we like the scores to be for each theme in 12 months time?
 - O What actions do we need to take to get there?

As you will see from the more detailed datatable analyses, results may vary quite considerably from one employee group to another, and so these questions often need to be discussed at both the overall organisation level and also further down, within individual teams and departments.

It is often useful to generate action plans at each of these levels to reflect the different priorities and needs that exist. Involving a range of staff in the action planning process often helps in ensuring not only that the right actions are taken, but also that people understand why they are being taken and are inclined to support them.
